Description	The principal welcomed the gathered audience warmly and greeted the guest, with the Head of the Department (HOD) delivering an introduction before handing over to the speaker. The speaker highlighted the FDA's pivotal role in upholding the quality of drug products by closely monitoring manufacturers' adherence to Current Good Manufacturing Practice (CGMP) regulations. These regulations establish essential criteria for methods, facilities, and controls in the manufacturing, processing, and packaging of drug products, ensuring their safety, claimed ingredients, and potency. In the evaluation of new and generic drug marketing applications, a crucial aspect involves assessing the manufacturer's compliance with CGMP standards. FDA assessors and investigators scrutinize whether the company possesses the necessary facilities, equipment, and capabilities to produce the intended drug. The HOD expressed gratitude in a vote of thanks, and the event concluded with the guest receiving an honorary memento.

Description	The principal seized the opportunity to address the gathering and warmly welcomed the guest, with the Head of the Department (HOD) providing an introduction before passing the stage to the speaker. The speaker underscored the robust and continually evolving alliance between the European Union and Australia, anchored in the 2008 European Union-Australia Partnership Framework. This framework serves as a comprehensive manifestation of shared values and the profound historical, political, economic, and cultural ties between the two entities. As this partnership has developed, the EU and Australia have taken measures to strengthen their bilateral relations, reaching a pinnacle with the signing of the EU-Australia Framework Agreement in 2017. Wrapping up the event, the HOD conveyed appreciation through a vote of thanks, and the guest was acknowledged with a commemorative memento.

Description	The principal delivered a welcoming address to the assembled audience, extending warm greetings to the guest. Following this, the Head of the Department (HOD) introduced the guest and smoothly transitioned the proceedings to the speaker. The speaker proceeded to elucidate that Japanese cosmetics fall under the oversight of the Pharmaceuticals and Medical Devices Act, commonly known as "the Act," issued by the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare (MHLW), serving as the competent authority. This regulation is complemented by various subsidiary regulations, standards, and guidance documents. Within the framework of the Act, Japan legally classifies beauty products into two primary groups: cosmetics and quasi drugs, with significantly differing regulations for each category. To bring the event to a close, the HOD conveyed gratitude through a vote of thanks, and the guest received a token of recognition.
